

Information for Fellows with Disabilities

Individuals with disabilities are leaders across the globe. The US-Jordan Leadership Exchange Program (UJLEP) is committed to ensuring that Jordan's young leaders with disabilities can fully participate in the Program through reasonable accommodation and support. The Program's disability support complies with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), one of America's most comprehensive pieces of civil rights legislation that prohibits discrimination and guarantees that people with disabilities can fully participate in American life. While the Program provides appropriate resources to ensure Fellows can participate in the program, the support services or accommodations may not be the same as what you are used to at home. When necessary and if resources are available, additional support will be provided to Fellows using assistive technologies or accommodative services.

More information about the support services available to Fellows with disabilities is outlined below.

General

Q: While I am in the United States, will I have access to all disability services?

A: You will be provided with reasonable accommodation that allows you to access and participate in all required activities of the Program.

Q: How will my Host know my individual needs?

A: Prior to arrival to the United States, all Fellows who self-identify as having a disability in their application will receive a survey from IREX requesting detailed information about their disability-related needs and health conditions. The information on this form will help IREX, your home stay, and your Practicum Host provide the support you need during the Programs. The information you provide will not in any way impact your selection. When necessary, IREX will arrange a phone call, Skype session, or email with Fellows to confirm their accommodation needs.

Q: Will my responses to the disability survey limit my ability to participate in the Program?

A: No, the UJLEP Program is a fully inclusive program, and the information that you provide in the disability survey will only increase our ability to accommodate your individual needs. It is vital that your disability survey responses be as detailed and accurate as possible so that IREX and your Practicum Host can prepare for your full participation in the Program.

Q: What access to medical care will I have? Can I get medication if I need it?

A: For the duration of their stay in the United States, all selected Fellows are entitled to a Health Benefit plan provided by the Accident & Sickness Program for Exchanges (APSE), sponsored by the U.S. Department of State. If you are taking any medication on a regular basis, you should bring sufficient supplies for the duration of the Program. Medications available in the United States may be different from what you are currently taking or may be significantly more expensive than in your home country. Fellows are responsible for all medical costs including required doctor visit copays and any prescribed medications.

Q: I will need to purchase medical supplies during my stay in the United States. Will this be covered by IREX or my Practicum Host?

A: We encourage you to bring enough medical supplies to last you the entirety of your stay in the United States. If you are unable to bring enough supplies, you can make purchases at local medical supply stores. All supply costs are the responsibility of the Fellow. Please be aware that available medical supplies may differ from those available in your home country and that prices may vary from what you are accustomed to in your home country. You can check online vendors if you will need to obtain a specific supply during your stay.

Q: I have never traveled on an international flight before. Will someone be there to assist me?

A: Prior to your arrival to the United States, IREX will contact your airline to arrange travel assistance based on your individual needs. The level of travel assistance will vary by airline, but typically includes assistance during check-in, boarding, and connecting flights. You should anticipate traveling independently without a personal escort.

Mobility

Q: I have trouble walking long distances. Will I be provided with assistance?

A: Yes, if necessary, a wheelchair or mobility scooter can be provided for you to use during the Program.

Q: I currently use a wheelchair but will be unable to bring it with me to the United States. Will a wheelchair be provided for me?

A: Yes, a basic wheelchair or powerchair can be provided for you to use during the Program. If you require a specific type of wheelchair for medical reasons, we encourage you to bring it with you. IREX will work to identify a wheelchair that meets your needs, but it may not be exactly what you are used to using at home. Please note that IREX is unable to provide custom or prescription wheelchairs.

Q: Will housing be accessible to me?

A: Yes, we will make accommodations to ensure that your home stay environment fit your needs.

Q: What will the bathroom be like?

A: If necessary, IREX will provide you with an ADA-accessible Homestay/Room which should meet the reasonable standards for your needs. This may include a bathtub or use of a shower chair in your room. You may need to learn new methods for accommodations that are not exactly as you are used to in your home.

Q: I will require assistance to help with housework, such as laundry and cleaning. Will this be provided?

A: Yes. Fellows are expected to take care of their own personal needs such as light housework, laundry, and sometimes cooking. Maid service is not typically provided during the program. If you have a disability that creates challenges in handling these tasks, assistance will be provided to enable you to do these things as independently as possible. Laundry machines will be available to machine-wash and dry clothing, and cleaning supplies for your apartment or dormitory-style housing can be purchased near your homestay.

Q: How will I get to places?

A: Fellows are responsible for getting around on their own but should find that most public transportation in the United States is accessible. Please discuss with your IREX support team what type of transportation is available for Fellows in the local community.

Vision

Q: I am blind or have low vision. Will I have someone to assist me during my time in the United States?

A: Yes, if necessary, a human guide will be available to blind and low-vision Fellows during the first few days of your Practicum. They will get you acquainted with your new surroundings and help you learn how to navigate safely and independently. Human guides will not be provided for the entire Practicum.

Q: I use braille to read documents. Will materials be provided to me in braille?

A: Most materials will be provided for you electronically, and limited program materials will also be available in braille. With advanced notice and when possible, IREX may be able to provide you some materials in braille. Please be aware that a shortened form of braille is commonly used in the United States.

Q: I use screen reader software on my computer to read documents but will be unable to bring my computer. Will the software be provided for me?

A: Yes, if you need to use screen reader software such as JAWS (Job Access With Speech) or NVDA (NonVisual Desktop Access) during the program and you cannot bring your personal computer, you will be provided with a computer that has appropriate software for you to use during your stay. It may be different from what you use at home, so training can be provided.

Q: I have low vision, and it is difficult to read documents in small print. Can materials be printed for me using large font?

A: Yes, materials can be provided to you in a larger print if needed. Please let your IREX support team know of this request as soon as possible, prior to your participation, so they can make the necessary arrangements. When large print is not possible, materials will be provided for you electronically.

Q: I need eyeglasses. Will these be provided for me?

A: No. If you typically use eyeglasses or contacts, you should plan to bring them with you. Please note that Fellows' health benefits plan does not cover routine eye examinations, eyeglasses, or contact lenses.

Hearing & Communication

Q: I use a tablet to communicate with my peers. Will a tablet be provided for me?

A: If you typically use a personal tablet, please bring it with you. If you are not able to do so, a tablet can be provided on loan to use during your Practicum. It may be different from what you use at home, so training can be provided.

Q: I am hard of hearing. Will hearing aids be provided for me?

A: If you are hard of hearing, we will work with you to identify basic tools such as voice amplification devices, or modifications such as front row seating, that meet your specific needs. If you typically use hearing aids, you should plan to bring them with you. Please note that prescription hearing aids are not covered under Fellows' health benefits plan, and IREX is unable to provide them to you.
